NEW YORK, October 8, 1899. There have been several occasions when fended the cup against Sir Richard Sut uled for September 7, over the regular the time allowed, the race was declared off with the Purltan leading the Genesta by about two miles and the finish line three miles off. The following day, September 8, there was a good wind and everything was propitious for a race, but in maneuvering to gain an advantage at the start the yachts fouled each other. The Purltan's yachts fouled each other. The Puritan's mainsail was torn and the Genesta's bow-sprit was carried away. The blame was decided to be on the Puritan, and the Genesta had only to sail over the course, ta made another attempt to sail a race, but the wind died out soon after the start, the Puritan having the lead, and the contest was declared "no race." On September 13, after waiting four hours for a breeze to spring up, the race was again called off Finelly on Sentember 14. STOCK BOARD INVESTIGATION of Finally, on September 14, a race was signed off. Finally, on September 14, a race was sailed over the New York Yacht Club course and the Puritan won. Two days later the Puritan outsailed the Genesta over the ocean course and the cup remainder.

Volunteer and Thistle. The next time the wind and weather

caused a postponement was in 1887, when the Volunteer met the challenger Thistic. The first race, on September 27, was salled under favorable conditions, the Voluned under favorable conditions, the Volun-teer-winning. The next race was scheduled for September 29, but the yachts did not even start, because of a caim and fog. The following day the Volunteer won. In 1833 the Vigilant and Valkyrie furnished two flukes. The first contest, set for Oc-tober 5, was declared "no race." It was declared off when the Valkyrie, which was leading, was ten miles from the finish line. leading, was ten miles from the finish line. The yachts had started to race fifteen miles to windward and return. The two follow-ing races resulted in victories for the Vigiing races resulted in victories for the Vigilant. In the fourth attempt, on October 11, the yachts sailed about in the dark until 7:15 p.m., when the time expired. It was not until October 14 that the deciding race was sailed, Vigilant winning. When the Earl of Dunraven brought over his Valkyrie III, in 1895, there was another fluke, the third race being a "sail over" for the Defender. The challenger, after crossing the line, turned back, her owner refusing to sail because no guarantee of non-interference by the excursion fleet was given.

Stories of a recent improper manipulation

of the call money market are being investigated by stock exchange governors, with tigated by stock exchange governors, with a view of preferring formal charges against offending members of the exchange, if sufficient evidence can be obtained. It is the contention of the governors that, although transactions in money on the exchange are not recognized officially, it is the duty of the management to see that every agreement made on the floor is made in good faith, to the end that the integrity of the exchange may be preserved. Wall street gossip has been concerned for several days, since the forty per cent call rate obtained, with the story that the high figures were the result of manipulation and were intended to effect speculative sentiment and cause the liquidation of stocks. It is this gossip that has spurred the governors of the stock exchange to action. They intend sifting the matter and fastening the blame, if there is any, on the offending money brokers and traders who were concerned in bidding up the rate. Officers and governors persistently refuse to affirm or deny that they are investigating. From a trustworthy source, however, it was learned that an inquiry has been started, and that if any basis for the current gossip can be discovered certain remember. ed, and that if any basis for the current gossip can be discovered certain members of the exchange will be brought before the gossip can be discovered certain members of the exchange will be brought before the governing committee on specific charges. Among members of the exchange opinion is divided as to whether any punishment can be meted out, even if it is proven that the money rate was manipulated. They point out that transactions in the money crowd have never heretofore received the official attention of the exchange, and that the exchange takes no cognizance of the rates made in the money market on the floor. Others, however, take the position that it is the province of the governors to see that all contracts made within the walls of the exchange are legitimate and in good faith. The lenders and some of the borrowers of call money at the high rates recently prevailing declare that the figures then obtaining were strictly legitimate and resulted from a demand that was in excess of the supply of funds. The consensus of Wall street opinion, however, is of the opposite sort. posite sort.

Manila's Unfitness for Women. Manila's unfitness for women again has been brought into discussion by the fact that the War Department within a few days has refused transportation to some women whose husbands are army officers and who sail this month from San Francisco for Manila with their regiments. The refusal was based on a cable message from General Otis, which said that no women should be allowed to go. His wisdom is evi-dent from the following letter, dated in Manila, August 15, and received the other day:

"Congratulate me. I have not received fortune or achieved greatness, but I am This place is worse than coming home. This place is worse than h-i; it must be. I don't regret having come, but, oh dear. Am so glad to get come, but, oh dear. Am so glad to get away. I would have remained a year if my health had not given out; but the only two things I have enjoyed here—the shower baths and studying Spanish. I have done the latter only two months, for I was ill the first two months and finally went to bed for two weeks. I have discovered a breastbone and ribs I knew not of before. The major has lost thirty-five pounds and I thirty-two. We all look like dying angels. The colonel's two daughters, who were so pretty, you know, are so changed; color all gone and thin, too. This is a devilish impossible hole. The government should not allow women to come. Of those who came on the Sherman two officers are dead and five have gone home til ficers are dead and five have gone home ill or wounded. Five ladies also have gone, so when I leave there will be only seven left. We have good quarters, except when the rain is bailed out in buckets. A gen-eral 'mess,' at which we are all starving;

eral 'mess,' at which we are all starving; files, cockroaches, tarantulas, lizards, monkeys, rats, ants, etc. The death list is terrible. Ten and twelve funerals a day, and fighting all the time. There are no 'coffee coolers' (army slang for those who stay behind and do not fight) here.

"The major's wife sailed last February from New York. She is not given habitually to strong language. While her husband is in the Philippines, she will make her home with his people, who are an old family in New Jersey. She is expected to arrive in a few days."

Bishop Potter Going Abroad.

The Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, bishop of the diocese of New York, expects to start in a few days to attend the general missionary council to be held at St. Louis. Thence he will go to Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, and his itinerary may include a trip to the Philippines. The Rev. Percy S. Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, at 5th avenue and West 10th street, Just why Bishop Potter would go to Hon-olulu, unless for pleasure, cannot be learned here. Dr. Nelson, the bishop's secretary, said that he did not believe that the bishop intends to go further than the Hawal'an Islands

Islands. Islands.
"I expect to go as far as Honolulu with the bishop," said the Rev. Dr. Grant, "but further I am not prepared to say. It will be necessary to see him about that."
Bishop Potter has been an avowed antiexpansionist, and has said and written much on the subject. Clerical friends of his expressed the belief yesterday that he will go to the Philippines to study the situation at first hand. TO GIVE SCHLEY A HOME.

Endless Chain Scheme Proposed by Miss Edna McClellan. The New York Journal of today says:

Rear Admiral Schley may well count Miss Edna McClellan among his very warm friends and supporters, and if her plan sucfriends and supporters, and it her plan succeeds he will have something substantial to be grateful for.

Miss McClellan, who is young and pretty, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weller McClellan of No. 105 West 77th street, was much impressed by the tremendous applause for Admiral Schiey in the Dewey day parade.

She decided that Admiral Schley should have a house in Washington, as well as have a house in Washington, as well as Dewey. She saw no reason why Schley's admirers should not come forward with Dewey. She saw no reason why Schley's admirers should not come forward with their dollars and dimes. She returned to her home and laid out a plan for the work which has just begun. She has started endless chains to raise dimes. Subscriptions in all amounts will be gratefully received.

Miss McClellan will ask Gov. Roosevelt and Miss Helen Gould to be members of the committee to control the fund. She will ask the assistance of President McKinley and members of his cabinet, and will go to Washington, if necessary, to seek the aid of representatives of Congress.

She is very busy writing endless chain letters, to be sent to all parts of the country. She is very confident of success.

Schley's admirers are legion, she knows. She feels, like all his friends, that he has never received due credit from the government for his splendid victory off Santiago, and she believes they will welcome an opportunity to show their appreciation by substantial contributions to this fund.

Miss McClellan has not considered the price of the residence to be purchased nor the location, but she is confident that this present from the people of the nation will be worthy of his position as a great naval commander.
